Washington Yacht and Country Club Junior Golf League

Dear parents and junior golfers,

It is hard to believe that the school year is already coming to a close. With summer approaching, it is time to start thinking about participating on Washington Yacht and Country Club's junior golf team because it will definitely be a fun and exciting experience for all junior golfers of all skill levels. The junior golf team will have practices throughout the summer and travel to different golf courses within the area to compete to see which golf course can bring home the trophy at the end of the year. The cost for the daily practices will be $10 per junior for each day he attends a practice. In addition to the junior golf league, we will also be offering a week-long junior golf camp in July that will consist of four days of instructional activities followed by a 9 hole golf tournament and cook-out on the final day. The cost for the camp will be $75 per junior and will consist of many fun and instructional activities.

As a student in the Professional Golf Management Program at NC State University, I love to play golf and I love working with junior golfers. Over the past 3 years I have gained experience working with junior golfers through helping to conduct junior golf clinics at Ayden Golf and Country Club and volunteering with The First Tee of Wake County. However, I also like to have fun while I am playing golf or helping someone with their golf game, so I am sure that this summer will be a summer that is both fun and full of golf. My home is just up the road in Greenville, NC and I competed on the junior golf team at Ayden Golf and Country Club from the time I was 10 years old until I graduated from high school, so I know how much fun playing on a junior team can be. Also, when I was a junior in high school I was fortunate enough to be given the first annual Eastern North Carolina Junior Golf League Tom Braswell Sportsmanship award and I believe that integrity is just as important as skill in the game of golf. As a past junior golfer, I am looking forward to working with the junior golf team here at Washington Yacht and Country Club!

If you have any questions about this summer's junior golf program you can e-mail me at golfinggirly87@yahoo.com or call me at (252) 531-8266 and I will look forward to seeing you this summer!

Sincerely,

Ivy Witherington
